

Refugee Legal:
Defending the rights of refugees.

Right here,
right now,
you can do something to defend the rights of refugees!

A word from our Director

As the year draws to an end, many of us in Australia find ourselves searching for meaningful gifts. After all, many of our loved ones have all the stuff they need. Many of them, like me, are profoundly concerned (even outraged) by the way we in Australia are turning our backs on refugees. Here at Refugee Legal we often hear the cry: "if only there was something we could do!"

The good news is:
there is something you can do!

This year end, why not support our work, and at the same time, give someone a gift that helps Refugee Legal continue to defend the rights of refugees?

There are many ways in which you can help us to provide a one stop legal shop for the most vulnerable refugees and disadvantaged migrants across Australia. We've thought about things you might like to donate, or to give as a present to someone you care about.

I hope you will join me in making this meaningful gesture this year, and thank you sincerely for your ongoing interest in Refugee Legal.

Without you, we could not continue to support the thousands of clients we see each year — thank you!

David Manne,
Executive Director, Refugee Legal

At Refugee Legal we never give up!

In just one of the many good news stories that come out of Refugee Legal every week, this year we celebrated the wonderful news from volunteer Pauline O'Dea that Family Ali (not their real names) had finally been granted permanent visas.

The family was overjoyed after a long struggle. Mr Ali fled from Afghanistan to Australia seeking freedom from fear and repression by the Taliban because he is a Shia Muslim and of Hazara ethnicity. His family fled to Iran where they have lived for many years always hoping that they would eventually be able to be reunited with Mr Ali.

Thanks to the dedication and hard work of our staff and volunteers, a family that has been living apart for nearly 20 years — father, mother and 5 dependants — will all be reunited, allowed to live and work in safety here in Australia!

Volunteer Pauline O'Dea

It is our privilege to work to defend the rights of refugees and disadvantaged migrants. With your help, and the dedication of our staff and 490+ volunteers, we will continue this work for as long as it is needed.
