

Refugee Legal:

INFORMATION SHEET

Free legal assistance for people impacted by the Israel-Gaza Crisis, including people from Lebanon and surrounding areas

This information sheet outlines key information for people seeking free legal help who are impacted by the Israel-Gaza crisis.

This includes people who are currently:

- In Gaza, the West Bank, Israel, Lebanon and surrounding areas seeking to urgently depart to Australia; or
- In Australia and impacted by the Israel-Gaza crisis.

People currently in Gaza, the West Bank, Israel, Lebanon and surrounding areas

- People outside Australia who urgently need to depart their country can apply for an Australian visa; this may be an application for a visitor visa or a visa under the Refugee and Special Humanitarian Program or other visa type depending on a person's circumstances
- Australian family and friends can contact Refugee Legal for legal advice about visa options

People in Australia

- Newly arrived people from the conflict areas who need legal assistance about their visa status and options for remaining in Australia.
- People living in Australia from impacted countries whose circumstances have changed due to the Gaza-Israel crisis and who need legal assistance about their visa status and options for remaining in Australia.

Interpreters are available for any person who needs interpreting assistance.
